

Abuse is the weapon of the vulgar.—Goodrich.

VOLUME 12 NUMBER 41

New York, Dec. 21.—A conference of business men and repre-

New York, Dec. 21.—A conference of business and labor representatives of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, called by Governor Roosevelt to correct garment industry evils, proved an indorsement of the power and correctness of the union on theory.

At the close of the summer, when a general strike is feared, the normalized by communists. Union shop agreements were signed and employers joined with the workers in setting up an impartial commission to adjust differences and to drive sweet shops out of the trade.

Governor Roosevelt, in opening the conference, said the first chapter in stabilization of the garment industry had been written.

Trade unionist explained that under this system one or two workers profit by exploiting their fellows under the old system.

He hinted that if changes are not

Washington, Dec. 21.—The lumber industry can be considered

Washington, Dec. 21.—The lumber industry can be considered an ideal "free and independent" industry, according to statistics on hours and wages paid these unorganized workers, issued by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The data covers 58,007 workers of 319 representative sawmills in 22 States and 6,968 employees in 51 logging camps in 10 States.

Prosperity and high wages are unknown to these workers. The average earnings per hour was 37.1 cents in 1928 and 35.7 cents in 1925.

These figures represent an increase of but less than 14% since the hours of

The clergyman declared human rights are superior to prop-

"Love is not sentimentality. It is sacrificial devotion to the things worth loving. Most of these questions are determined by inexorable economic laws with which religion has nothing to do. The religious element in economic conditions or considerations can override or abrogate the moral law."

"Love is not sentimentality. It is sacrificial devotion to the things worth loving. Most of these questions are determined by inexorable economic laws with which religion has nothing to do. The religious element in economic conditions or considerations can override or abrogate the moral law."

CHAIN STORES HARMFUL,

[illegible]

values?" was asked. "What does it profit a man to gain the world and lose his own soul, and what does it profit a nation to reach the acme of Industrial efficiency and drive its people into 100 strikes with casual workers' but could not make a single striker who shot at the police as he was being taken to the house. Jones then threw the deputized strikers into the street and attempted to flee from gas bombs.

Jones was asked if the first assassin was the only one who fired his gas attack.

"No, because that was an assault," replied the witness.

Jones acknowledged he is a Communist, but said he was not a member, that he loaned his revolver to the strikers for the purpose of the pay of the mill.

"I was not paid for the money I took practically the same story," Jones could not identify a striker who fired the gas attack.

ALL-YEAR HOUSES
OPPOSED BY LABOR

Speech To High Ups

Gen. — bad in there nobody liked. But he

Milwaukee, Dec. 21. — Organized labor opposes the local school board "efficiency" plan to have schools operate the entire year. The scheme was a useful fellow to us so we had to take him in. He was a good fellow, but he was the problem."

We looked up the election laws and found that we had to be open a sufficient length of time—and that a voter had to be registered in the district.

The district was canvassed and 400 were found who would vote for us. We had to get out the voters.

"Notice of opening the polls were given to the voters and the 400 voters were assembled in line and when they were ready to vote the polls were closed. The other citizens had not registered and therefore, were ineligible to vote."

proposed several years ago, but said that it was not feasible.

"This is a marked speed-up, but it is a marked improvement. It has been said about school bus routes that they are not good for manufacturers in this city of close for longer periods. We do not have any system of transfer to the schools with the given education that will work with the city."

CHAUFFEURS GAIN

Yonkers, N. Y., Dec. 11.—Organized chauffeurs here have won a victory in their fight for shorter hours and reduced the long work days of chauffeurs from 14 to 10 hours.